

ABOUT WELLNESS WITH HOMEOPATHY

You can positively achieve wellness.

Homeopathy is a specific type of natural therapy that assists the body in restoring balance. It is a very detailed system of healing based upon the principle of stimulating the body to heal itself. Homeopathy is non-toxic and highly effective. Practiced throughout Europe, Central and South America, India, and Africa, homeopathy has been experiencing a resurgence in the United States as part of the movement toward alternative medicine. The principles underlying homeopathy have been systematically proven throughout two centuries of practice results and validated by over 200 scientific studies meeting modern criteria of acceptability.

HOMEOPATHY IS TAILORED TO FIT YOU SPECIFICALLY

You're unique and so is the best approach to healing for you

- During your first appointment--which lasts about 60 minutes- a full picture of your overall health is created by examining your specific symptoms in light of your individual characteristics and life history.
- By taking the physical, mental, and emotional aspects of your case into consideration, a comprehensive symptom picture is built which - after careful deliberation involving an extensive database search - is matched to the remedy that best resembles you and the factors that led up to your current state of health.
- The homeopathic remedy prescribed for your individual case stimulates your body to heal itself. Depending upon the severity of your symptoms, more than one dose may be needed to promote complete healing.

Homeopathy promotes healing and a return to a state of wellness in both acute and chronic illnesses

- Homeopathy can be used in acute illnesses and injuries.
- Homeopathy is also well-suited to treating chronic conditions, bringing about profound healing that restores vitality and health to your body.

HEALING BODY, MIND & SOUL THROUGH HOMEOPATHY

As a safe and gentle type of natural therapy, homeopathy has been helping people achieve wellness for centuries by stimulating the innate ability of the body, mind, and soul to heal itself.

- Homeopathy is based on the principle of "like cures like" - matching a specific remedy to a specific set of symptoms.
- Homeopathic remedies are produced in accordance with the FDA-recognized Pharmacopoeia of the United States.
- Made from plants, minerals, earth salts, other natural elements, there are over 3,500 homeopathic remedies. Examples from daily practice are Pulsatilla (Windflower), Sepia (ink of the cuttlefish), Calcarea carbonica (calcium carbonate from oyster shells), Sulphur (the element), and Natrum muriaticum (sodium chloride, table salt)

THE SCIENCE OF HOMEOPATHY: BACK TO THE FUTURE

Homeopathy has its origins in 18th Century Germany, when a physician named Dr. Samuel Hahnemann developed an alternative method of healing.

For centuries, homeopaths have been carefully observing and recording the symptoms that various natural substances produce in healthy individuals. These observations have been catalogued and then analyzed by computer databases in order to precisely match the symptom picture of an ill person.

Modern science is now starting to shed light on the process by which homeopathy operates. Ongoing research in the field of quantum electrodynamics and high-dilution pharmacology, as it relates to nanomedicine, has increased the plausibility of theories regarding.
